

Download from
Dreamstime.com

This watermarked comp image is for previewing purposes only.

ID 2468711

© Milan Surkala | Dreamstime.com

YOUR JOB MAY BE WATCHING YOUR ONLINE ACTIVITIES

4.) Watch &amp; Write: Thesis Statement 	Watch my "How to write a thesis statement" take notes in your digital notebook, and write a draft of your thesis statement on your essay document in Google Classroom.		Flip your instruction so students can self pace through information and explanations.
5) Game: Thesis Statements 	Go to Quizziz.com Enter 887162 for the game code. Enter your name and complete the activity. Work until you get at least 80% correct. Once you get your score, scroll down the screen to see the correct answers. See me if you have any questions or if the game code has expired.		Incorporate fun online review games and/or quizzes (e.g. Quizziz, Kahoot!, Socrative, Google Forms, etc.).
Tucker Time 	Bring your computer to Tucker's "Help Desk" for edits on your thesis.		Build in "stops" to conference with students one on one to provide feedback on their progress.
6) Watch &amp; Write: Hook Strategy 	Watch my "How to write a hook strategy," take notes in your digital notebook, and write a draft of your hook (above your thesis statement) on your essay document in Google Classroom.

YOUR JOB MAY BE WATCHING YOUR ONLINE ACTIVITIES

Download from
Dreamstime.com

This watermarked comp image is for previewing purposes only.

ID 2468711

© Milan Surkala | Dreamstime.com

---

According to search firm Gartner, many corporations want to monitor digital activity to make sure their employees are not sharing sensitive information on social media sites like Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn etc that could pose a security risk or damage their brand to the company on those social media sites.

We have Equal Opportunity laws in the US that bar discrimination on race, sex, ethnicity or religion.. ” Social Media and Job SeekingIt has been written that employers often ask a job candidate or employee to hand over their social network login details to review what they're saying online.. “The conflicts involved were highlighted through recent examples of a small number of organizations requesting Facebook login information from job candidates,” said Andrew Walls, research vice president of Gartner.. By year 2015 over 60 percent of corporations will be monitoring their employees’ external social media use Your Job And Recruiters May Be Watching You OnlineBut that doesn’t mean you would be expected to give up the login access to your Twitter or Facebook accounts information.. But personal information they discover on such sites can also generate serious liabilities for the company.

What Recruiters Are Searching For When They Google You or check out your public posts on social networking sites Ackerman says, “We always check LinkedIn profiles which are representative of a candidate's business social network.

So if you are planning on a professional career you need to think twice about posting that lampshade party shot.. "It is not common (and probably not) legal for an employer to ask for these, says a Magnet Agency representative Allen Ackerman.

This is clearly an invasion of one’s privacy,” but cautioned that public posts were another issue.. We don’t check Facebook but may check Twitter, blogs Today, people need be aware that whatever they post on-line will be available publicly.. ”Sources: http://news yahoo com/workplace-keeping-watchful-eye-online-activities-151859923.. “Although that particular practice will gradually fade, employers will continue to pursue greater visibility of social media conversations held by employees, customers and the general public when the topics are of interest to the corporation.. It’s good to see whom we’re mutually connected to and who has recommended them. e10c415e6f